Eastman Organic Chemicals

MADE IN U. S. A.

The spirit of research must not be hampered by delay in obtaining chemicals, nor by the uncertainty as to their purity.

Eastman quality and service are unsurpassed. Actual determinations of purity have been made in our Laboratories for the majority of our chemicals. The results are given in our new list.

Small and large orders receive the same prompt attention.

Directions for the use of any of our reagents or indicators will be sent upon request.

Send for the most complete list of fine organic chemicals in America.

Professional Advancement Service

---

THE PROFESSIONAL ADVANCEMENT SERVICE seeks to aid men and women in botany and related subjects in securing such positions as they may desire, and to offer to heads of departments, or directors of laboratories, experiment stations, or other institutions an opportunity of making known the vacancies they seek to fill.

THE METHOD OF THE SERVICE consists in publishing in the American Journal of Botany a brief notice stating the training and experience of the applicant or the requirements of the vacancy. Each person using the Service is designated by number and his identity may be learned on application to the Business Manager of the American Journal of Botany. A list of eligibles and open positions is kept, and inquiries are referred to the advertisers who are mentioned or seem best suited to the requirements stated. The Professional Advancement Service may thus have the opportunity to mention a man for a desirable position or a promotion a number of times during a period of several months. The charge for the service is $2.00 for each case for one year or less. The notice regarding qualifications offered or desired will be published at frequent intervals, but not more than ten times.

Address: The Business Manager, American Journal of Botany, Brooklyn Botanic Garden, Brooklyn, N. Y.

No. 44. Botanist, B.S. and M.S. from a university, desires college or university position in botany after June 10, 1922. Specially interested in ecology and taxonomy. Four years' teaching experience in college, including one year in a state university as acting assistant professor of botany. Member Botanical Society of America and Ecological Society of America.

No. 45. Botanist, Ph.D., with thirteen years' experience in teaching and administrative activities, desires a change of position offering opportunity for both teaching and research, and financial betterment. Has taught morphology, dendrology, physiology, mycology and plant pathology; good technician; especially interested in dendrology and physiology, with several publications in these fields; can handle large classes.

No. 47. Graduate, University of Amsterdam and Agricultural College. Broad training and experience in plant breeding, plant physiology, genetics, economic and general botany. Eastern and western American teaching experience as Professor. Studied several years extensively in various institutions in England, France, Germany, Holland, Sweden, Norway, Denmark, Switzerland, Belgium and Italy. Formerly Scientific Director of private Plant Breeding Station. High class recommendations. Desires position in University or private enterprise.

No. 48. Botanist, Ph.D. of five years' standing, with experience in research and teaching, wishes to improve condition. Member technical and honorary societies. Fellow A.A.A.S. Especially interested in physiology and pathology. Several publications. Would like research position or teaching position with sufficient time for research. North central section of the country preferred.

No. 49. Botanist, Ph.D. from a leading university, also from a first rate agricultural college, with thirteen years teaching experience (six in India), desires position, preferably combining teaching with research. Numerous publications, principally ecological. High recommendations. An opening in a tropical or subtropical region is especially desired.

---

No. 50. Wanted—laboratory instructor in beginning college botany—a young man of good bearing who looks forward to a college or research career in botany and who has perhaps begun graduate work. Preferred that his research interest should be in mycology. Opportunities and prospects good: salary modest.

Don't Think We Build But One Kind of Greenhouse

Tiffany sells more than one kind and priced scarf pin. They start in at $5.

That $5 one is just as much a Tiffany pin as the $500 one.

It has the same reliableness.

It is Tiffany through and through.

We build just plain, practical purpose houses, void of all embellishments.

Then we build at least three more, each one to meet a particular need and pocketbook.

There are four ranges of costs.

Still every one is built in the same thorough Hitchings way.

They are Hitchings Standard through and through.

Think of us as high-class builders but not necessarily as high-priced ones.

Tell us your need and we will fit a Hitchings house to it.
